These stunning works of art range from a vintage Ford Model T wood spoke wheel, hand-detailed with copper paint, to a hubcap transformed into a blossoming flower, to a burning tire made of glass.

The Art in Motion project unites the creativity of Seattle artists, the philanthropy of Washington's new car and truck dealers, and the generosity of Pacific Place-Seattle and other local businesses to benefit local charities that serve children and families. All the art work will be auctioned for charity and the proceeds will be donated to local charities that serve children and families.
